(A) INTRODUCTION

THE Reynolds family is among the forty-nine "best families" selected by the American Historical-Genealogical Society for whom the Society has published family histories during the past few years. The Reynolds family has been prominent in the British Empire and in the United States, its members having played important roles in war and in peace. Family pride is a commendable trait and should be cultivated. All Reynolds have just cause to be proud of their family history and traditions.

In references No. 10 and No. 14 we find the following regarding the origin and meaning of the name Reynolds.

Reynolds developed from "Rainhold," a Teutonic personal name of great antiquity. Several tenants-in-chief in Domesday Book are called "Rainaldus," and the name also appears as "Ragenald" and "Rainald."

A few of the modifications and diminutives of the name are: "Reynall," "Reynard," "Rainey," "Rennison" and "Rennals."

The data in this volume is gathered from reliable sources. We have selected what we consider the most important material. Many of the daughters, and sons for whom no issoe was shown, have been omitted from the pedigrees. A missing symbol indicates that a name has been omitted. Those desiring further information are advised to consult the volumes mentioned in the list of References.

The compiler hopes that, in producing this volume he is bringing to the Reynolds Family information which will be of interest and value to them, and that he is rendering an important service to the public. He and his associates will be glad to give their cooperation to members of the family who are interested in having a complete genealogy of the family published.

Unless otherwise plainly shown, the persons in this volume whose names are accompanied by three figures are children of the immediately preceding persons bearing immediately preceding numbers. All persons in each group bearing the same letter as a part of their numbers, are directly related. The generations of the descendants of those bearing numbers of three figures are represented as follows. However, some of our material is published as copied from various records without rearrangenent according to this system.
