Top of will. Will instructions dictated by Herodias to Henry M. Hodges and Isaac L. Arnold on Oct. 15, 1877. They testify that she was of sound mind. Herodias states that she wished to have a "burial in a decent manner shall be paid first" then all just debt's, then $75 for a tombstone and to fence the graveyard. She then gives all of her household and kitchen furniture, beds and bedding and clothing and $200 each to son John D Adkins; to daughter Elizabeth N. Boyd and to daughter Sarah A. Abney $250. She then wished that 1/4 of the remainder of her property, moneys, and effects to be equally (1/4) divided between John D. Adkins, Elizabeth V. Boyd, 1/4 to Sarah A. Abney and 1/4 to the heirs of her (deceased) son Henry G. Adkins. John D. Adkins named executor. Witnessed by Henry M Hodges and Isaac L Arnold who then presented the will to probate on October 22, 1877.
